

GEORGIA NUTRITION ADVISORY COUNCIL OF THE YEAR

Judging Requirements and Guidelines

The Georgia Nutrition Advisory Council (NAC) of the Year Award recognizes a NAC that has accomplished one special project or activity that FOCUSED on creating a positive image or awareness of its program.

General Information:

- No entry fee or affiliation fee is required.
- Information follows that outlines the guidelines regarding the content and format of the materials to be submitted for judging and the criteria the judges will use. It is very important to follow all guidelines. Entries that do not follow the guidelines will be disqualified.
- All entries must be in GSNA Headquarters by March 1, 2025.

Qualifying Information:

- NACs that wish to participate in the contest must submit an affiliation application to GSNA Headquarters, postmarked by October 1, 2024.
- At least one NAC advisor must be a current member of GSNA.
- The NAC must be based in a local school. A district-wide group is not eligible.

Entry Format:

- The entry should be submitted on 8-1/2 x 11 paper and stapled or clipped together. Smaller or larger entries will be disqualified.
- Entry should be typewritten, organized as described below, and intact.
- Entry must include:
 1. Nutrition Advisory Council of the Year Award cover page.
 2. Background information on the NAC (one page maximum, one-sided) including:
 - a. A list of NAC members and advisors.
 - b. A good quality photo of the NAC group, including advisors.
 - c. A paragraph describing the NAC's program and school community. (i.e. Tell us about your NAC program, why you have a NAC, etc.)
 3. NAC project information and description (two pages maximum, one-sided)
 - a. The project should have a defined goal and the goal must be FOCUSED on promoting the school nutrition program. The more creative the goal is, the better. NACs are encouraged to explore various avenues of interest, such as improving the school foodservice program, improving participation, educating the school and/or community about nutrition and good health, and heightening awareness of the school nutrition program.
 - b. A brief description of the goal of the project.
 - c. A description of why the project was selected.
 - d. A description of how the NAC was involved in the planning and implementation of the project.
